THE NATION

Gov. George Romney of Michigan told a presidential commission investigating urban riots that an effort of historic proportions by public and private institutions would be necessary to prevent "greater bloodshed and possible destruction of the nation." Romney, who appeared in a closed session before the commission, declared that "it is later than the nation realizes."

The executive council of the AFL-CIO proposed a multi-billion dollar program to meet the urban crisis and revitalize metropolitan centers. In a wide-ranging policy statement, the council called for a million public service jobs for the unemployed, 2.5 million new housing units a year, improvement and expansion of mass transit, speeded construction of public facilities, restructuring of public welfare and a program to relieve rural poverty.

A group of economists representing the entire political spectrum urged Congress to ignore certain current soft spots in the economy and to look ahead to a probable boom next year — which they said would require a tax increase. The panel of economists voted 7 to 1 for a tax increase to be effective no later than Jan. 1. The chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee reported that a majority of his committee opposes the rise.

THE WORLD

Navy carrier planes bombed four targets in Haiphong and its suburbs yesterday in a move to isolate the North Vietnam port. United States pilots smashed the city's railroad yard and a major warehouse area and knocked out two bridges, one of them over a canal less than a mile from the center of the city. Military sources in Saigon said the move toward isolating the port area was in answer to critics who have been calling for attacks on the docks or for closing the port channel.

India reportedly proposed to Communist China that a ceasefire be observed on the tense border between Sikkim and Tibet beginning at 5:30 a.m. today. The proposal was contained in a note delivered to the Chinese Embassy in New Delhi. Even before any Chinese reply was received, firing at the border tapered off and was finally halted.

SPORTS

Nick Tomassoni announced his resignation as president of the Recreation Softball League. Tomassoni had been head of the local modified pitch league for four years. Page A5.

Intrepid scored a decisive victory over Dame Pattie in the first challenge race for the America's Cup yesterday, beating the Australian boat to the finish line in the best-of-seven races by five minutes, 58 seconds. Page A7.

Kansas City linebacker Bobby Bell was named Defensive Player of the Week in the American Football League for his play against Houston last Saturday. Bell intercepted a pass for a touchdown and turned in a crucial tackle in the third quarter. Page A6.

Boston's Jim Lonborg hurled his 20th victory of the season and rapped a run-scoring triple against Kansas City to spark the Red Sox into a first place tie for the American League lead with Minnesota. St. Louis pitcher Bob Gibson, out most of the season with a broken leg, returned to top form last night as he threw five-hit ball for seven innings in the Cardinals' victory over Philadelphia. ### TO END WAR IN VIETNAM

Reagan Urges Escalation

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Gov. Ronald Reagan yesterday called for sharply escalating the Vietnam war by using the "full technological resources of the United States."

He said at a news conference that fighting a prolonged foot-soldier conflict was waging war on the enemy's terms.

The Republican governor backed off from flatly urging the use of nuclear weapons, saying it would be best to keep the enemy wondering if the United States might turn to them. He said the Chinese Communists during the Korean war refused to negotiate until word was leaked through neutral sources that the U.S. was considering the use of atomic weapons.

Reagan turned a question about the criticism of Michigan Gov. George Romney's statement that he had been brainwashed by the administration on its Vietnam policies into an attack on the administration. "I think he has made an explanation of the context in which he used the term," Reagan said. "Perhaps he expressed at the same time the concern that a lot of Americans should have as to whether they are getting all of the facts that they are entitled to have about both foreign and domestic policy."

Reagan said the result was a new credibility gap in government. "I do not believe the government of the United States has been keeping the people informed to the extent as is the people's right," he added.

Reagan suggested that nuclear bombs might not be necessary to win the Vietnam war. He said that if the escalation that the U.S. has undertaken during the last two or three years had been taken suddenly "The war might have ended because doing it all at once might have brought the enemy to the bargaining table."

Instead, the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese have been able to adjust themselves to a gradual escalation, Reagan said.

Asked if he favored stepping up the conflict, he replied: "Yes — to win the war as quickly as possible."

"There are still a list of targets that are not open to bombing by our forces, and I don't think that the full technological power of the United States is being used."

The governor added: "We are attempting to fight the enemy more on his own terms, the foot soldier with the hand gun, and I don't think this is a war, or type of war, that the United States should engage in when there are forces like Russia and China, Asia generally, that can outman us."

When asked about the use of limited nuclear weapons, Reagan replied: "Well, I think all of us have agreed that and I think there have been statements by people on both sides of this controversy that nuclear weapons, we hope, would not be resorted to. I still repeat what President Eisenhower said some time ago, that perhaps one of our great mistakes, however, was in assuring the enemy in advance of our intention not to use them, that the enemy should still be frightened that we might."

James Malone, Youngsville borough manager, announced that the $5,000 will be given to the Youngsville Fire Department for the erection of a new fire hall on the old athletic field site. Solicitor William Hill advised council not to accept the $20,200 for Island Park damages as the "park owner's liability has reverted to the heirs." Island Park has served Youngsville as a recreational area under a complicated agreement which may be terminated if the facility is inactive.

Gordon H. Kay and Lewis L. Crippen advised council by letters that they considered the placement of trailers on Thatchers Lane illegal under the zoning ordinance of 1961. Raymond Larson, spokesman for the residents of the trailers on the J. W. Hamilton property, reported that they had observed all regulations of the borough and the state. Solicitor William Hill stated he will review all the facts and the reasons the zoning board granted the variances and then give his opinion.

Council agreed to offer the Pennsylvania Railroad Company $90 for 1/6 acre of land needed for the connector street which will run parallel to the Route 6 bypass. The utility had requested $600 but the Clifton Agency, of Warren, evaluated the property at $90.

President Hendrickson relayed a joint request of William Unterreiner and Lyle Morley to allow an additional exit from an expanded parking lot on West Main St. Mr. Unterreiner is reported to have purchased the former Dr. A. N. Stilling's property and Mr. Morley is the owner of Morley's Super Duper Market. The businessmen would like to expand the parking lot between the market and the old liquor store location. Council rejected the request because "another exit at that point is not advisable because of congested traffic with the intersection so near."

At the request of Manager Malone, council requested the streets committee to review the weed ordinance and the sidewalk committee to review the sidewalk ordinance. Both ordinances may be amended. Council authorized payment of $3,000 to liquidate the last of general obligation bonds totaling $25,000 approved on September 15, 1955.

Eight people were elected last night to the board of directors of Warren-Forest Counties Economic Opportunity Council.

They are Mrs. David Rice, Chester Walker, Bert Levinson, John Mallery, Blair Logan, Mrs. Joseph DeFrees, Howard Thompson, and D. H. Lay. The board of directors, now that eight have been added, has 34 members.

Officers were also elected when the board met at the Alice Wetmore room of the YWCA. They are Mrs. John Fanartitis, president; Mrs. Donald Wilkin, vice president; Mrs. William Wilbert, secretary; and James Mazzu, treasurer.

Richard Brown, who heads the council's programs, said the next board meeting will be Sept. 28. That meeting will, he said, use "concrete" word on two applications that have been sent to Washington. Brown also said the meeting would take up appointment of committees and hear a progress report.

Brown said no action had yet been taken on plans for the abandoned school at Russell. He said a community action meeting there on Sept. 21 will decide whether the school is wanted for antipoverty programs. That meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the fire hall.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois declared before the vote that the proposal by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., is "an impertinence and outrage that ought to be roundly defeated."

There were several vote switches on Clark's proposal as the roll call progressed slowly. It ended up supported by 29 Democrats and 13 Republicans and opposed by 24 Democrats and 22 Republicans. This is the fourth time the Senate has passed a similar election reform measure in recent years. The previous three died in the House, but supporters say they are confident of better chances there this year.

The legislation, similar to that proposed by President Johnson May 24, is now being considered

BORO SHARES SPOTLIGHT

Deluxe Addition Opened

By BETTY RICE

The borough of Warren shared the spotlight yesterday as officials of Deluxe Metal Division of Royal Metal Corp. gathered to dedicate two new additions to the local plant.

D. Dadourian, president of Deluxe Metal, said that everything he is in Warren, especially in the fall, he wonders why anyone would want to live in New York.

Dadourian commented on the friendliness of the community and termed Warren "a proud town." He noted well kept up homes, clean streets and stated he wished the firm's main office were located here.

The president said Deluxe is the "Cadillac of shelving" and the people of Warren made it so.

Dadourian continued by outlining the progress of Deluxe Metal Division stating the new additions of space and facilities indicated confidence that the firm would continue to effect more and more sales every year. He said the facilities would mean better service and more economies in production as well as expansion.

The president pledged the firm will continue to take measures to remain competitive in both delivery and manufacturing.

Introduced at the dedication by William Dugan, Deluxe public relations man, Wesley Rodd, sales manager, in turn presented Col. Henry C. Kerlin, executive vice president of Warren Area Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Julius Fino, Chamber president; District Attorney Samuel F. Bonavita, Andrew Donick, state employment director; Victor L. Miller, borough manager and Sam Gerardi, state inspector.

Dr. Fino, in the absence of Mayor D. E. Conway, expressed the deep interest of both the Chamber and the community in Deluxe Metal and said the plant's growth and progress is "amplified by what we do for you." Fino added the Chamber's appreciation of Royal's choice to locate in Warren.

President Dadourian stated that management was proud of Frank Gentile and his great crew at the Warren plant and noted the firm has scores of top foremen and over 200 skilled workmen.

It was explained that the corporation was selective in its distributors, the majority of which were represented at yesterday's ceremonies. Officials were present from Seattle, Washington; Dallas, Tex.; Detroit, Mich.; Boston, Massachusetts; Trenton, N. J.; Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y.; Minnesota, Milwaukee, Wisc.; Tennessee, California, Maryland and Virginia.

Prior to cutting the ribbon and a tour of the new additions, Dadourian said the facilities were physical evidence of Deluxe Metal's determination to serve the distributors.

Deluxe was born in the 1920's, the age of the Charleston and while Lindberg was preparing his "Spirit of St. Louis" to cross the Atlantic.

In 1950 Deluxe became a part of Royalmetal and without upsetting quality or traditions, many innovations were introduced.

The 1967 new plant addition in Warren includes another 25,000 square feet of warehouse space to assure immediate delivery of many items. As a result the company has substantially improved its delivery schedule.

The latest expansion also includes 25,000 square feet of fabrication space which increases manufacturing capacity and enables the plant to accommodate the volume provided by distributors.

Refreshments were served in a large outdoor tent by Schuyler's Caterers from Jamestown, N. Y.

Hike Taxes Now is Economists' Advice

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — A group of economists, carefully chosen to represent all points of view, advised Congress with near unanimity yesterday to ignore present soft spots in the economy and vote a tax increase now. They said that without a tax rise there would be an inflationary boom and a renewed credit squeeze in 1968.

Among the economists supporting a tax increase were former members of the President's Council of Economic Advisers in the Truman, Eisenhower and Johnson administrations.

In the course of the hearings the committee's powerful chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, came closer than he ever has before to saying that he opposes a tax increase now. But he stopped short of saying so unequivocally.

Outside the hearing room, Mills did say that he believed a majority of his committee opposed a tax increase at this time.

Since the constitution requires that all tax measures originate in the House of Representatives, and since all House tax bills originate in the Ways and Means Committee, the opposition of a majority of this committee could kill any possibility of enactment of an increase.

The views of the members could change, however, as they begin their private deliberations on the tax issue after the public hearings end this week.

8 Board Members Chosen by Council

Eight people were elected last night to the board of directors of Warren-Forest Counties Economic Opportunity Council.

They are Mrs. David Rice, Chester Walker, Bert Levinson, John Mallery, Blair Logan, Mrs. Joseph DeFrees, Howard Thompson, and D. H. Lay. The board of directors, now that eight have been added, has 34 members.

Officers were also elected when the board met at the Alice Wetmore room of the YWCA. They are Mrs. John Fanartitis, president; Mrs. Donald Wilkin, vice president; Mrs. William Wilbert, secretary; and James Mazzu, treasurer.

Richard Brown, who heads the council's programs, said the next board meeting will be Sept. 28. That meeting will, he said, use "concrete" word on two applications that have been sent to Washington. Brown also said the meeting would take up appointment of committees and hear a progress report.

Brown said no action had yet been taken on plans for the abandoned school at Russell. He said a community action meeting there on Sept. 21 will decide whether the school is wanted for antipoverty programs. That meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the fire hall.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois declared before the vote that the proposal by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., is "an impertinence and outrage that ought to be roundly defeated."

There were several vote switches on Clark's proposal as the roll call progressed slowly. It ended up supported by 29 Democrats and 13 Republicans and opposed by 24 Democrats and 22 Republicans. This is the fourth time the Senate has passed a similar election reform measure in recent years. The previous three died in the House, but supporters say they are confident of better chances there this year.

The legislation, similar to that proposed by President Johnson May 24, is now being considered by the House Administration Committee.

Before passing the bill, the Senate stripped from it 79 to 7 a provision which several members said would make it "a rich man's family bill." This provision would have exempted from the $5,000 contribution limitation any gift to a candidate by his wife, child, grandchild, parent, grandparents, brother or sister.

The Senate turned down another Clark amendment 56 to 30. It would have required that the detailed campaign spending reports required by the bill be filed with the comptroller general. The measure provides such reports go to the secretary of the Senate and the clerk of the House.

Chinese Statement Is Seen as Ominous

By CHARLES MOHR

(C) N. Y. Times News Service HONG KONG—The outbreak of fighting between China and India in the Himalaya may be followed by new Chinese pressures and threats against the Indians, observers here said yesterday.

Since broadcasting the text of a protest and "serious warning" to India Monday night, Peking has been relatively reserved in its public treatment of the crisis, relegating it to third or fourth place in several newscasts by Peking radio, and deleting it in some.

However, observers here took note of the fact that the last sentence of the protest to India has said, "The Chinese government reserves the right to raise further demands."

It was also recalled that during the full-scale Sino-Indian border war in the fall of 1962 there were prolonged periods of lull which deceptively concealed the final, all-out Chinese offensive that drove over the mountains and into the lower foothills of Assam, cutting off an entire India division.

It was, therefore, difficult to predict with much assurance whether the Chinese would let the fighting on the border with the Indian protectorate of Sikkim die out or would push it to serious levels.

The Chinese have never disputed the demarcation of the border with Sikkim—in contrast to their extensive claims along the borders of the Indian territories of Assam and Indian Ladakh.

But the Chinese have consistently shown irritation at any attempt to strengthen or fortify Indian-held border positions, political observers said. Indian attempts to bolster barbed wire and other defenses in the Nathu La (La means pass) and Jelep La areas of the Sikkim border may have precipitated the present fighting, sources speculated.

It was considered likely here that the Chinese would demand that India reduce its military concentrations on the sensitive border passes.

Hurricane Winds Slap at Jamaica

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Weakened by a collision with Haiti's towering mountains, Hurricane Beulah slapped the resort island of Jamaica with gale winds and high tides yesterday on her westward course through the Caribbean.

Once a violent storm that killed at least 18 persons, destroyed crops and property and left thousands homeless, Beulah was just barely in the hurricane class. Top winds of 70 to 75 miles an hour were confined to squalls near the center.

Bill on Annuities OK'd by House

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House passed a bill yesterday that would authorize life insurance companies to write variable annuity policies in Pennsylvania.

The vote was 200-1 with Rep. Percy G. Foor, R-Bedford, the only opponent.

Rep. Austin M. Harrier, R-Clearfield, key sponsor of the bill, told the House that variable annuities are dependent on the investment returns of the underwriting company.

Companies now write only fixed annuity policies, under which the holder is assured a pre-determined sum after a given number of years.

Harrier said 35 other states permit the variable annuity policies, in an expanding economy they can provide increased benefits, he added.

Clarion County Request Refused

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission denied yesterday a petition by Clarion County asking to be relieved of a $10,000 payment for construction of a new railroad bridge in Limestone Township.

The county said the money was "out of proportion" to the benefits its residents would get from the new bridge, which is expected to cost $191,000.

Sen. Clark Married In Private Ceremony At Unitarian Church

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania was married yesterday to Mrs. Iris Cole Richey at a private ceremony in All Souls Unitarian Church, his office announced.

Family members and a few close friends attended a small reception for the couple at the bride's apartment afterwards.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Duncan Howlett, pastor of All Souls Church, and Dr. David Parke of the Unitarian Church of Germantown, Pa., of which Clark is a member.

Joseph S. Clark Jr. was best man for his father. Mrs. Richey was escorted by her son, Kirkwood. Her only attendant was her daughter, Callisto.

Mrs. Clark is the daughter of Lou Cole of Darden, Pa. The senator's office said that the couple will make their home at Harbour Square Apartments in southwest Washington.

Smokers' Death Risk Said Double

By JOHN BARBOUR

NEW YORK (AP) — The American man between the ages of 35 and 65 who smokes a pack or more of cigarettes a day is doubling his chances of dying from forces in his environment, a government doctor said yesterday.

In fact, the extra deaths caused by cigarettes and tobacco essentially equal the number of deaths caused by all infections, auto and other accidents, diabetes, suicide and murder.

That was the grim picture outlined by Dr. R. T. Ravenholt, director of the State Department's Population Service within the Agency for International Development. He reported to the World Conference on Smoking and Health.

"Cigarette disease is now the foremost preventable cause of death in the United States," Ravenholt said.

To dramatize his point, he listed the excess deaths attributed to tobacco through cancer, coronary and blood vessel disease and other causes such as bronchitis and emphysema.

The total of such excess deaths from tobacco totaled more than 301,000 in 1966.

He then listed deaths from all infections including tuberculosis, pneumonia and influenza, all accidents, diabetes, murder and suicide. They totaled over 307,000 in 1966.

"For those men smoking two or more packages of cigarettes per day, and who regard with some complacency their minor (10 per cent) risk of dying of lung cancer, it should be emphasized that their true risk of dying of their smoking habit is roughly six times greater," he said.

He said there is also evidence that cigarette smoking causes damage to body cells far from the respiratory tract, notably in glands, blood vessels and in the urinary system. Since, he said, it can cause damage so far ahead, it is a possibility that it can damage the germ cells, the egg and sperm.

Ravenholt said there is recent evidence as well indicating that smoking by pregnant women is markedly harmful to the growth and development of the embryo and fetus in the womb.

"The extraordinary magnitude and pervasive nature of the cigarette disease problem challenges every person, truly concerned with personal and community health, to do all he can by personal example and as a community leader to abate their foremost threat to the public health," Ravenholt said.

The World Conference on Smoking and Health which ends today is sponsored by a group of organizations, including the American Cancer Society, the American Heart Association and the U.S. Public Health Service, and is dedicated to the spread of information on the hazards of smoking.

India Proposes a Border Cease-Fire

(C) N.Y. Times News Service

NEW DELHI — India proposed to Communist China yesterday that a cease-fire be observed on the tense border between Sikkim and Tibet beginning at 5:30 a.m. today.

The proposal was contained in a note delivered to the Chinese embassy here after another morning of light small arm and artillery exchanges along the Nathu La, a Himalayan pass that spans the frontier which Monday was the scene of the worst clash between China and India since their brief border war in 1962.

Even before any Chinese reply was received here, firing at the border tapered off and finally halted. An official spokesman said it had been so light and intermittent yesterday that there may not have been further casualties.

The Indian note suggested that the Chinese and Indian commanders meet immediately after the cease-fire to discuss how further incidents can be avoided.

The note reflected the judgment of analysts here that Monday's barrages were an isolated incident and not part of any concerted effort by Peking to bring new pressure to bear on the long Himalayan frontier.

It is believed here that Chinese forces in the Chumbi Valley, which leads to the Nathu La from the Tibetan side, number a few thousand at most. Reinforcements would presumably have been rushed to the border if the Chinese were contemplating a major operation.

There are believed to be about 25,000 Indian troops in the tiny kingdom of Sikkim, which India regards as a protectorate.

The defense ministry spokesman said that Chinese shells landed four miles beyond the border in Sikkimese territory, but he knew of no civilian casualties.

He cast doubt on Chinese allegations that Indian shelling had damaged Buddhist temples in Tibet.

There was speculation that the shelling may have had some obscure significance in the struggle between various military and political factions among the Chinese in Tibet.

Blowup Ends Sinatra's Vegas Shows

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Frank Sinatra's stormy breakup with the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas has wound up his performing in the glittering gambling city until next year, says his press agent.

Sinatra was not talking about the blowup which various reports said were caused by the Sands casino cutting off his credit; a hotel official popping the teeth and Sinatra running an electric baggage cart through a plate glass window.

"With all those rumors, you know it has to be a figment of someone's imagination," said the press agent.

The known facts were that Sinatra ended his 16-year association with the Sands last week-end, and cut short by a week his appearance there.

Sinatra announced through his attorney, Milton Rudin, that he had signed a three-year contract with Caesars Palace, a rival casino and hotel on the Las Vegas strip. The contract calls for two appearances a year by Sinatra.

TO PROTEST ELECTION 'RIGGING'

Viet Students Stage Walkout

(C) N. Y. Times News Service

SAIGON — Several hundred students walked out of the entrance examination for the University of Saigon medical school yesterday to protest what they said was the "rigging" of the presidential elections.

Leaders of several student organizations have called for a march today to the headquarters of the Constituent Assembly.

Antigovernment Buddhists are also reported ready to join the demonstration. Police officials said yesterday the march was unauthorized and were prepared to make wholesale arrests.

Yesterday's student protest took place at three of the five centers where a total of 4,000 students were taking the examination for 300 vacancies in the medical school.

Shortly after the examination began, Vietnamese sources said, organizers of the demonstration arose in the classrooms and began denouncing Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the present chief of state, and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Other students added their voices, apparently by prearrangement, sweeping papers off the desks and tearing them up. Then the protesters swept out of the examination centers. The gesture may cost them their chance to gain coveted places in the medical school.

Government sources were cool to the idea advanced by the demonstrators that the examination be rescheduled after the assembly acts on the legality of the election.

Chiefs' Bobby Bell Scores Again

Grid Giants

Cut Mercein

NEW YORK (AP) — Fullback Chuck Mercein, the New York Giants' leading rusher last season, was placed on waivers by the National Football League club yesterday. The move enabled the Giants to get down to the mandatory 40-player limit. Mercein, the Giants' No. 3 draft choice in 1965, gained 327 yards in 94 carries last year and was their fifth leading pass receiver with 27 caught for 152 yards. He also did some field goal kicking.

Len Dawson, Chief quarterback, used the same game Saturday night to complete 13 straight pass plays at the expense of Houston's Oilers. Everyone, however, especially the Oilers, was well aware of the significance of the touchdown, and everyone also knew the importance of a tackle Bell made minutes later.

Those two crucial plays in the Chiefs' 25-20 victory over Houston earned Bell the distinction of being the season's first American Football League Defensive Player of the Week named by The Associated Press.

The touchdown, on a 15-yard run with an intercepted pass, was the fourth of Bell's professional career. He has scored one in each of the last four of his five seasons in pro football. And now that he has insured the continuance of his streak, Bell can settle down to his routine role of all star linebacker.

"He played a great football game," said Chiefs' Coach Hank Strain, "but nothing he does surprises me. He has that kind of ability, and we expect big plays from him."

The first big play came at the beginning of the third quarter with Kansas City holding a slim 17-14 lead against a surprisingly stubborn Houston team. On a third and 13 situation the Oilers' Jacky Lee dropped back to pass.

But the 6-foot-4, 228-pound Bell stormed through the Houston line, blocked the pass, then grabbed the ball and raced 15 yards for the score.

"As I got near Lee," Bell explained, "I saw that I might have the chance to get the ball. I jumped up and knocked the ball in the air. I kept bobbling it until I got a firm grip on it. Linebackers don't get an opportunity to score very often, and I don't want to blow the chance."

Ten plays later, Bell got the Chiefs out of trouble again. This time the Oilers had the ball on the Kansas City one-yard line and it was fourth down.

Don Trull replaced Lee at quarterback and rolled out to his right with a guard Sonny Bishop in front of him.

"When Trull came in, I was looking for a rollout," Bell related. "I shot in as fast as I could, stayed real low and thought the best thing to do was to try and destroy the interference."

Bell destroyed Bishop so brutally that he knocked the 245-pound guard backwards, right into Trull. The quarterback went down for a seven-yard loss and the Oilers didn't have the touchdown that could have given them a great upset.

Bell made six other unassisted tackles and gained the defensive player of the week award over Rodger Bird of Oakland, Kenny Graham of San Diego and rookies George Webster and Willie Lee Jones, both of the losing Oilers.

Bird set a pair of AFL records in Oakland's 51-0 victory over Denver, running back nine punts for 143 yards. His returns of 43 and 53 yards set up two Raider touchdowns.

COMPETE FOR AMERICA'S CUP

United States' defender "Intrepid" (right) took a decisive victory over Australia's "Dame Pattie" in the first leg of the best-of-seven series for yachting's America's Cup yesterday. The racing course covers 24.3 nautical miles in Rhode Island Sound. The second race is slated for today. (See story at right)

OVER DAME PATTIE IN OPENING RACE

Intrepid Sails to Decisive Cup Triumph

By ART HATTON JR.
NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Intrepid, the American defender skippered by the peerless Bus Moshbacher, sailed to a decisive victory over Australia's Dame Pattie yesterday in the first race of the best-of-seven series for the storied America's Cup.

The heavily favored American yacht plied up a lead of 1 minute, 50 seconds on the first leg, as Moshbacher out-manuevered his old rival, Australian Jock Sturrock, and then kept adding to her margin over the six-legged course of 24.3 nautical miles in Rhode Island Sound.

Intrepid, a yacht built to repel the challenge of the new Australian contender, won by about one mile.

In time, the winning margin was 5 minutes, 58 seconds. Intrepid's time was 3 hours 33 minutes, 3 seconds to Dame Pattie's 4:01:01.

This is the 20th challenge, and the second by Australia, for the Cup the United States never has lost in 110 years.

The sleek yachts, each built at costs estimated from $500,000 to $750,000, first sailed over a triangular course with a windward leg of 4.5 miles and then two broad reaches of 3.15 miles each. They finished with a windward leg, leeward leg and finally a windward leg of 4.5 miles each.

Moshbacher, who had skippered Weatherly to a 4-1 victory over Sturrock's Greitl in 1962, beat his old rival in a tacking duel on the first leg for a lead of 1:50 minutes. They started off by sailing to a stiff northeast wind of 20 knots.

The American craft bolstered the margin to 2:11 on the second leg and then made it 2:50 for three, 3:20 for four, and 3:50 for five.

The times for each leg were Intrepid first: 1—1:15:45 to 1:17:35; 2—1:35:57 to 1:38:08; 3—1:52:10 to 1:55:30; 4—2:39:07 to 2:43:33; 5—3:08:56 to 3:14:02; 6—3:55:03 to 4:01:01.

The yachts will meet in the second race today, starting at 12:10 p.m. EDT.

The skippers are allowed to ask for a lay day, or a day off after a race but can not ask for it on two consecutive days. They must make their decision immediately after a race.

The race committee asked Sturrock if he would race a day off but he said he would race.

More than 60 per cent of the sail on yesterday was windward — to the wind.

Dame Pattie appeared to have difficulty because of a high mainsail and couldn't seem to get the necessary drive. She may have been bothered, too, by the spectator fleet on the second leg, the 3.15 mile broad reach.

The start had to be held up for more than 20 minutes to allow the Coast Guard to clear the use armada of spectator craft — estimated at more than 2,000 — from the course.

An estimated 20,000 spectators, the most ever for this rich man's race, witnessed the colorful classic, or parts of it, on a clear day.

It was Intrepid's race from 20 minutes after the start when she gained a wide weather berth on the Dame and forced Sturrock to take the defender's stern on the first tack in the 20-knot breeze and lumpy sea.

The story of Dame Pattie's humiliating defeat was in her sloppy mainsails which provided virtually no drive on the windward legs. The sail snook from leech to luff except on the downwind legs.

But even downwind the Dame was no match for the Intrepid. The Dame's crew appeared to have an attack of buck fever with several bad examples of sail handling.

She lost time after turning the first windward mark when her big Genoa jib came adrift for nearly a minute.

On the next downwind leg, the Dame's crew lost control of the spinnaker after executing a perfect jibe. The tack of the sail came loose from the outboard end of the pole.

A little excitement ripped through the spectator fleet shortly after the yachts got past the halfway mark when a spectator boat was reported sinking near the America's Cup buoy as the Intrepid boomed towards it on a spinnaker run.

A Coast Guard rescue boat got pumps aboard the sinking boat just before its decks became awash. Another Coast Guard boat towed the boat away from the course.

At the same time, the commercial spectator boat, Block Islander, with several hundred paying spectators aboard, broke down near the race course and had to be taken in tow.

AL Players Drop Charges Against Athletics' Owner

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Major League Baseball Player's Association agreed yesterday after two days of meetings with Commissioner William D. Eckert, to drop the unfair labor practices charges it has filed against Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics.

Commissioner Eckert presided over two days of unprecedented meetings in which baseball sought to end the feud between the A's and their owner before it reached the National Labor Relations Board.

The parties met for 12 hours Monday and eight more yesterday before emerging with a settlement.

In a prepared statement, Commissioner Eckert said that the Player's Association, represented by its director, Marvin Miller, had agreed to withdraw the charges after Finley agreed that it would not interfere with the rights of his players to air any grievances they might have in an orderly manner.

The statement also said that the parties agreed to resolve any future disputes "by mutual discussion rather than by resorting to the news media."

Finley became embroiled with his players after suspending pitcher Lew Krausse on Aug. 18 for an alleged incident on an airplane.

After that, in rapid order, Manager Alvin Dark was fired, pitcher Jack Aker, the A's player representative, was fined, and outfielder-first baseman Ken Harrelson was released. Harrelson, who had criticized Finley for firing Dark, was later signed by Boston.

In the statement released by Commissioner Eckert, the Kansas City management says that at no time did it "contemplate taking future action against the players or any of them as a consequence of this dispute."

"Should a player in the future believe that retaliatory action is being taken against him," the statement continued, "nothing herein shall interfere with his right to process a grievance."

It was a fear of retaliations that led the A's players to request the meeting with Eckert.

Also scheduled for review by the commissioner was the suspension of Krausse, but this matter was not settled and a hearing has been set for Sept. 28.

Rabbi Sweats Out Kindergarten Task

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — See the man. The man's name is Robert. He is a rabbi. He preaches to his people. He has a little girl, Sharon. She is 6 years old. On Monday, he walked Sharon to the big, brick school.

And that is how—presto!—the Rev. Dr. Robert L. Lehman became a "volunteer" kindergarten teacher at P.S. 98 in the Marble Hill section of Manhattan.

"I was just pulled in off the corridor," Lehman said. He had left Sharon off in a first grade class in room 311 and was walking out when he was thrust into room 202 with the 5-year-olds—an instant teacher.

At 9 a.m. yesterday, the 40-year-old rabbi was back again in room 202, with six mothers and 12 children, for a second day as a member of the city's force of 8,600 volunteer teachers hastily recruited to keep New York's public schools open during the teachers' strike that began Monday.

First names were the first order of business, Lehman, a youthful looking man with blue eyes and wavy light brown hair, gazed through black-rimmed glasses and said, "Everybody say hello to Alex."

Everybody said hello to Alex, including Alex. "Everybody say, 'Hi, Michele,'" Lehman suggested, touching off a tiny-voiced chorus.

"I'll bet you can't guess my first name," Lehman challenged. There were no takers. "Try," he coaxed. Still silence. "Well, do you think it's Ish-kabibble?" he inquired. Silence. "Julio—why are you crying?" Lehman asked, glancing down at the boy to his left. Tears as big as diamonds were spilling from his eyes. But it passed and Julio was soon composed.

What the children had done in the summer came next, which moved the dialogue to the beach and to beach food.

Lehman then gave out big yellow sheets of paper and crayons to the children sitting at two of the three big tables. There was a minor crisis when a boy ate a piece of red crayon. "Why don't you give him a color he doesn't like," one of the mothers suggested.

Lehman led the class through 25 maneuvers of Simon says, then into singing with the Birthday House record by Paul Tripp. "Tra-la-la, oom-pah-pah," Lehman sang. "What's the use of a great big oom, without a little pah?" There was a sing-song game with numbers, and a story from a children's book.

When the class was over, Lehman stood at the door. He knew all the pupils' names.

"He's a nice man," Eddie announced loudly in the corridor to his mother.

"A rabbi is a teacher, so it's within the profession. But you sweat," Lehman said afterward. "Little kids are the greatest critics, and they express their criticism by not paying any attention to you, by just ignoring you."

W. German Steel Is OK by Shafer

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A U.S. Trade Center spokesman here said West Germany meets Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer's guidelines on steel purchasing.

Shafer, now leading a 15-member Pennsylvania Trade Mission through Europe, said he wants state governments to ban purchases from countries that discriminate against U.S. - produced steel.

West Germany already imports some limited amounts of special quality steels and imposes no direct or indirect restrictions against U.S. steel, the spokesman said.

Most of the country's needs are met by domestically - produced steel which can meet world prices without artificial protection, he explained.

Shafer said he was concerned about countries which ship steel to the United States while practicing trade policies which, in effect prohibit the use of American steel.

"Once a nation accepts the international concept of fair trade there should be no hypocrisy," said Shafer, repeating a theme he said he was going to carry to each of six nations he would visit on the two - week trade mission.

Shafer said that while he was

UFO Case Solved; It's a Bag

SHARON, Pa. (AP) — Police consigned the case of the unidentified flying objects to the "Solved" file Tuesday.

But it was no assurance that more glowing spheres won't be seen flitting around the skies of the Shenango Valley — like last Thursday night.

A power failure blacked out the lights in Sharon for 30 minutes. When the lights came on again, there bobbing, glowing object floating off toward the north.

Monday night a tipster advised Police Chief Earl H. Holby to visit Robert Henrich, 23, a factory worker. Henrich showed Holby and a few newsmen how he placed about 18 lighted birthday candles on a piece of cardboard. A plastic cleaning bag over the candles filled with hot air and took off.

The entourage chased the bag for about five miles into Ohio before they lost it.

"It wasn't meant to be a UFO at all," said Henrich. "It was an attempt to see if we could get something like that off the ground."

Henrich agreed to stop sending up bags, but he said he doesn't know if it will be the end of UFO's.

"The young kids — they probably all have the specifications now," he said. "You won't be able to walk outside without seeing one."

BY SPEEDING UP PROGRAMS

To Double Low-Rent Housing

By MAX FRANKEL

(C) N. Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — The Johnson administration plans to double the number of low-rent housing units ready for occupancy in the next year, from 35,000 to 70,000, by adopting new procedures and priorities.

The new routine—an acceleration rather than expansion of public housing programs—was announced at the White House yesterday by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, Robert C. Weaver. He described the program to President Johnson, who was said to have urged officials into faster action.

Local housing authorities around the country were informed of the new system Monday. They are expected to submit within a month a list of the low-rent projects that can be constructed, rehabilitated or leased in the next nine months. These projects will be given top priority so that federal funds and energies flow into the projects that offer the earliest opportunity for occupancy.

The federal government supports low-rent housing efforts by insuring local bond issues that raise money for construction. It also offers subsidies to make up the difference between income from rents and the combined cost of operating the housing units and retiring the bonds.

Low-rent housing units are generally apartments assigned to families with annual incomes of $4,000 or less, for which they pay monthly rentals of between $40 and $70.

About 670,000 units are now being supported by federal government at an annual cost of about $250 million. An increase of $19-million in this figure in the current budget would provide for an additional 60,000 units, but the old processing and priority systems would have produced only about 35,000.

By throwing its support to those units that will be finished within 9 months, Weaver said, the administration now expects to arrange for the occupancy of 70,000 units in a year, raising the number of persons moved from 150,000 to 300,000. This will not raise the cost of the program in the current year, but it will require higher annual subsidies for all supported units in the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The acceleration became possible, Weaver said, because of the adoption a year ago of the so-called "turn-key" system. This permits a private builder to assemble land and to construct a low-rent housing project under federal standards and to "turn over the key" — that is sell the project — to a public housing authority when finished. This procedure has been found to be much faster than construction by local governments and, in many cases, less expensive as well, he said.

Now that the "turn-key" system has been found useful, the Department of Housing and Urban Development has altered its regulations to sanction its widespread use. Most of the 70,000 units to be prepared in the next year will be newly constructed. Up to one-fourth will be leased or rehabilitated units in existing projects.

De Gaulle Ends His State Visit to Poland

(C) N. Y. Times News Service

WARSAW — President de Gaulle ended his state visit here and flew to Paris yesterday, leaving behind a joint declaration which sought to minimize his failure to induce greater flexibility on Germany.

However, despite statements of official satisfaction by French and Polish spokesmen, the 1,200-word joint declaration reflected French-Polish disagreement on major European issues.

It omitted specific mention of the French president's earlier unequivocal support for the Order-Neisse frontier between Poland and Germany, which he alone of western leaders had approved.

Some observers interpreted this omission as a sign of de Gaulle's disappointment in failing to extract concessions from his hosts despite his efforts to please the Communist regime.

The declaration called for regular political consultations and the strengthening of existing French-Polish economic, cultural, industrial, commercial and scientific and technical accords.

Steel Haulers' Strike Affects W. Penna. Area

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An unusual strike by steel-hauling truck drivers who own their rigs has spread to Western Pennsylvania and threatens to disrupt steel-making.

Some picket lines have been set up. One trucking company representative said yesterday the movement of steel from Pennsylvania west by truck has been virtually stopped.

Another estimated 1,000 trucks are parked in the Pittsburgh area with nowhere to go.

A spokesman for U.S. Steel Corp. said its shipment schedules have been thrown off and it is looking for other ways to ship. Plants at Cleveland and Youngstown, Ohio, and Pittsburgh have been affected, he said.

"If this stoppage continues and spreads it could affect operations at some plants," said the spokesman.

The striking owner-operators are protesting against their own Teamsters Union. They contend the union is not pursuing their demands for better terms effectively.

The strike started three weeks ago in Gary, Ind., and has gradually spread east.

"We're absolutely dead," said Paul Kimberlin, who represents Highway Express, Hess Cartage and Hess Motor Express, which contract for the individual truckers. "We haven't moved any steel west for three or four days."

Picket lines were set up yesterday at isolated steel terminals. Kimberlin said the truckers had also attempted to picket some steel company gates.

"We tried to move some steel out of Weirton, W. Va., last night," said Kimberlin, "and we had to ask the Weirton police to protect the trucks."

Steel moving east is not affected.

In Gary Teamsters Local 142 is under two restraining orders to stop picketing steel companies.

In Pittsburgh the Teamsters local had no comment.

Welfare Board Concerned Over Children's Home

The Hoffman Children's Home in Warren continues to concern members of the Warren County Child Welfare Services Board, which has been involved with the program and future plans of the facility. Relative to this a representative of the Child Welfare League of America has made a preliminary study of the Hoffman Home with the full evaluation of county child welfare needs to be made in the near future. At the recent bi-monthly meeting of the advisory board Dr. John M. Jacks, assistant superintendent of Warren County schools, was a special guest. Dr. Jacks reviewed and explained the Elementary and Secondary Education Act as amended by public law 890-10. Elements of this act are directed to meet special needs of children in institutions such as Hoffman Home.

Enterprise Man Jailed

TITUSVILLE — Herbert Thomas, 25, of the Enterprise area was in a Titusville tavern Monday evening when he suddenly whipped out a gun and fired two shots. No one was hit by the bullets. One went behind the bar, the other through the floor into a basement. Several patrons were in the bar at the time. Titusville police said Thomas was charged with violating the firearms act and pointing a deadly weapon. He was arraigned and is being held in Crawford County jail in lieu of $500 bond. The gun was a .44 caliber Magnum. Police said Thomas gave no reason for his actions.

Building Permits

Borough manager Victor L. Miller issued 15 building permits last month for a total value of $60,515.

The speaker stated money would be available for this program for the coming school year and reviewed some programs instituted throughout the state for meeting special needs of children. He said similar funds were available during the past school year but were not utilized.

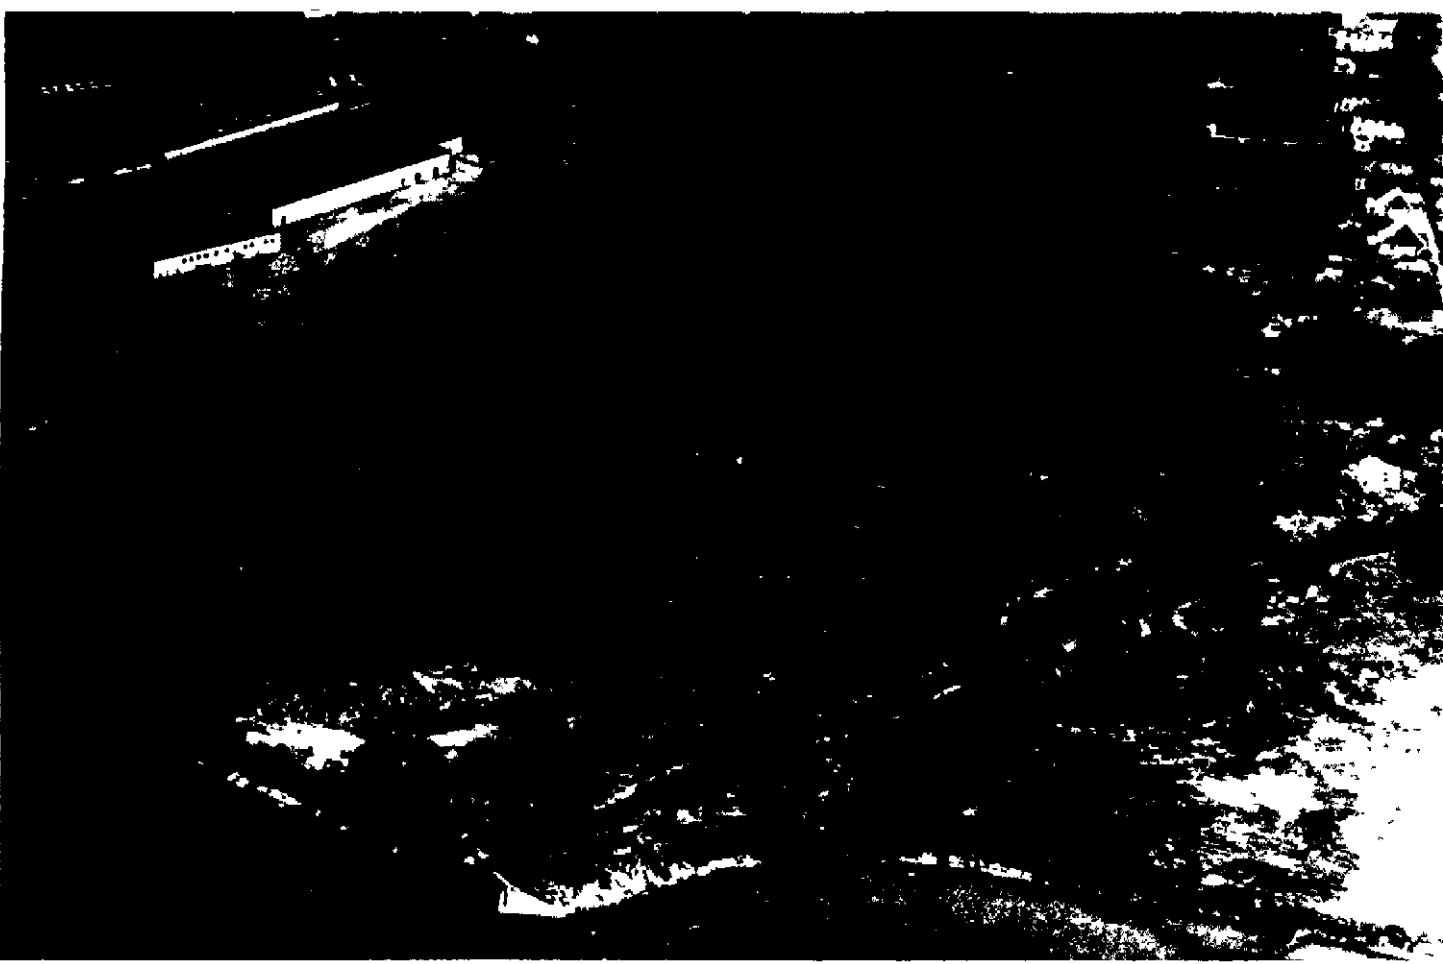

The advisory board has been informed Hoffman Home will remain open until the study is concluded by the Child Welfare League with the future program to depend on evaluation.

The statistical report for July and August was presented. At present the agency is working with 71 families involving 254 children. There are 46 children in foster care, 39 in foster home care and seven in institutional or group care. It was reported 208 children are being given protective and counseling service in their homes.

Board members stated they were keenly aware of the number of children being served and the need for an adequate program for these children. In regard to these services the board recognizes that adequate personnel is a necessity and with director Paul Rickert and the county commissioners are making every effort to fill vacancies now existing.

The resignation from the board of the Rev. Nelson O. Horne was accepted with regret.

Mrs. Paul Harrington, chairman presided at the session. Other board members are Mrs. Alan Buerkle, Mrs. F. J. Schumacher, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Harold Mallory, Ralph Santo, Mrs. C. Robert Gustafson, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Henry Blick Jr., Mrs. Richard Peters, Mrs. William A. Holister and the Rev. David Vennberg.

IF AND WHEN

If and when Senate Bill 509 is passed in the state legislature, construction of the Oak street swimming pool complex, to be located on this site, could receive a needed financial boost. Funds would be available to cover 50 per cent of construction cost and engineering of the pool. The measure provides for development of land purchased under Project 70. Borough manager Victor L. Miller said a 60 to 90-day wait could prove profitable to the venture. A preliminary application for funds has already been approved. (Aerial Photo by Mahan)

Swim Pool Program Held Up In Hopes of Project 70 $$$

Warren Borough Council Monday night was advised of a necessary delay in starting construction of the swimming pool at the proposed Oak street recreation center. Borough manager Victor L. Miller explained that the low bid contractors for the pool had been asked for an extension of time on the contract until such time as Senate Bill 509 is passed.

According to Miller and county planning director, Robert Peterson, the $500 million bond issue approved by the voters last spring, allocates as much as $75 million to the Department of Community Planning and Development. This means, Peterson stated, that funds would be available to develop use of land purchased under Project 70.

Peterson emphasized the swimming pool complex would be eligible for such funding. A preliminary application for an appropriation, Miller advised, has been sent in and approved. Once the bill is signed into law by the governor, Part I application can be speedily submitted.

In the public fund drive about $185,000 was subscribed. Peterson said the amount fell short of the mark since bids were higher than estimated. Peterson noted there were some persons who felt construction should get under way immediately but agreed with Councilman Rockwell O'Sheill that it would be unfortunate if by not waiting 60 to 90 days for the senate bill to pass, Warren would miss out on possible financial aid.

With passage of the bill Warren could receive 50 per cent of construction costs and engineering of the pool.

Sugar Grove Youth Hurt In Accident

A 17-year-old Sugar Grove youth suffered a broken leg in a 7:30 p.m. accident on LR 957 one mile west of Lander.

Admitted to WCA Hospital in Jamestown, N.Y., was Andrew Boskow, of 301 Jamestown st., Sugar Grove.

State police trooper Myron Fernstrom of the Warren substation said a Honda motorcycle operated by Patrick D. Wright, 16, of 12 Race st., Sugar Grove, pulled off to the right of the highway and was struck by a car driven by Ray H. Nekis, 37, RD 2, Valencia, Pa.

Wright and Boskow were both thrown off the cycle, police stated.

A 19-year-old Canadian youth escaped with a scratched leg at 2:05 p.m. Monday on Route 62, six miles south of Warren in Pleasant township when his motorcycle went out of control.

Trooper Daniel Portzer said Wayne P. Burnell, 492 Brock ave., Toronto, Ontario, was passing a tractor-trailer when the cycle went out of control. Damage was listed at $5.

Trooper John D. Barnes was called to the scene of a one-car traffic mishap at 8:05 a.m. Monday on LR 61001 three miles east of Tidioute.

Police said a car operated by Dianne W. Tanner, 24, RD 2, Titusville, in attempting to avoid a car turning in front of her, ran off the road and struck an embankment.

The driver was admitted to Titusville Hospital for treatment of facial lacerations and damage was estimated at $450.

Lowe Reports 54.3% of Deaths In County From Heart Disease

A review of the activities of the Allegheny Mountain Heart Association by Dr. Raymond Lowe, chairman of the board, indicates the dedication of many individuals engaged in fighting heart disease.

Dr. Lowe stated heart and blood vessel diseases are now costing the nation about one million lives yearly, more than all other causes combined.

Latest statistics show this to be true in Warren County. Last year 519 deaths were recorded and of this total 282 or 54.3 per cent were from heart disease.

The doctor listed activities of the association as follows: Allegheny Mountain Heart contributed $1,000 in research monies in efforts to prolong American lives. Research has developed the heart-lung machine, artificial heart valves and synthetic artery grafts. Developed the pacemaker and developed intensive care units and methods of preventing occurrences of rheumatic fever. They have developed new methods of treating stroke and of rehabilitation of stroke patients, the use of anticoagulant drugs and many more discoveries.

Jamestown Home Damaged By Fire

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — A Charles street home and its contents were extensively damaged in a fire early yesterday afternoon. Reports at the Jamestown Fire Department were that Mrs. Ronald Goranson of 22 Charles st. was burning paint from a wall with a torch when the sliding caught fire, and flames mushroomed from the first floor to the attic of the two-story frame home. Firemen were forced to cut a hole in the roof in order to reach part of the blaze.

Two companies were called at the first alarm which sounded at approximately 1:40 p.m. and a third company was summoned almost instantly thereafter. Firemen were at the scene nearly three and one half hours before water from three one and one-half inch lines finally quenched the flames.

Mr. and Mrs. Goranson are listed as the owners of the property and Donald Stahl listed as a second floor tenant.

In winter, an improperly dressed person will feel about as much pain at plus 40 degrees as at 40 degrees below zero.

Rice-Marshall Citizens Group Announces Plans

The Citizens Committee for Rice and Marshall, a group organized to elect Dr. David K. Rice and to run a write-in campaign for James G. Marshall, Tidioute, for Warren County commissioner, today issued a statement of its policy and revealed campaign plans.

"The large number of candidates for nomination to the office of county commissioner and the subsequent wide spread of votes in the primary," the statement said, "failed to reflect a clear cut majority opinion of Republican voters."

The statement said the slate of Rice and Marshall is being proposed "to give the voter another choice and a chance to vote for two candidates who will work for the advancement of Warren County." Incumbent Blain Mead was nominated along with Rice in the primary. According to the policy statement, the primary outcome "in part, did not correspond with the desires of a majority of the voters."

Dr. Ross Bryan, chairman of the committee, said petitions of endorsement of the candidates are currently being circulated and volunteer workers are being enlisted throughout the county. Plans include the opening of a campaign headquarters in the near future.

"We have adopted as our slogan, 'A Better Choice for Responsible County Government,'" Bryan said. "We are confident that as the voters become acquainted with the issues and the candidates' platform in the coming weeks, they will make that choice on Nov. 7."

A major portion of the campaign, according to Bryan, would be devoted to instructing voters how to cast a write-in vote for Marshall.

"A write-in vote is a simple procedure on both machines and paper ballots," Bryan said. "Every voter in the county will have an opportunity to learn how to do it."

Marshall, the write-in candidate, operates a general contracting company in Tidioute. He ran third among Republicans in the primary, receiving over 2,100 votes. Dr. Rice, a veterinarian, was nominated in the primary with the highest plurality of votes among the eleven GOP candidates.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: People write to you about all sorts of things. I want to talk to you about my parrot. He has taught me more about unselfish love than any human I ever knew, including my mother.

Hans Wurst was given to me by a friend who had to leave town. I didn't want him. I gave him away twice. Both times the people brought him back. He talks a blue streak and some of the things he says aren't very nice.

Hans is beautiful. He is affectionate. He is interesting. He also bites people who tease him. He keeps me up nights shrieking and cussing. He makes a mess of his cage and is a sticky eater. But he is worth all the trouble because he is my friend. When I am unhappy he knows it and yells, "Lemme see outa here." I take him out of the cage and put him on my shoulder. He tucks his little head under my ear and says, "Everything will be fine." And I believe him.

So, Ann, suggest a bird for people who don't want cats or dogs. The only thing that saddens me is the thought that Hans will not live forever and I will miss him desperately when he goes. — ALFIE

DEAR ALFIE: Cheer up. The life expectancy of a parrot runs anywhere from 15 to 80 years. Hans might be around longer than you, Bub.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your advice to the woman who had the phony fainting spells was wrong. I know from experience because my sister-in-law has been pulling the same stuff for 20 years. Her husband has spent a fortune on doctors and hospital bills. No one has been able to find anything wrong with her. Now, instead of having her phony attacks once a month, she has them six times a week.

This woman spends most of her time in bed watching TV. She has a tantrum if she isn't waited on fast enough. Her medication is nothing but tranquilizers. She has everyone under her thumb and it is nauseating.

You say people like this need compassion and understanding. I say her husband should have called her bluff years ago and thrown her out on her ear. So please stop covering up for these phonies. Ann Landers. Don't suggest compassion and understanding. Suggest the booby hatch. They are nuts. — NO SYMPATHY FOR PRETENDERS

DEAR NO SYMPATHY: Your angry recital is filled with contradictions. On one hand you say your sister-in-law is a phony and her husband should have called her bluff years ago. On the other hand you say she should be in the booby hatch because she is nuts.

A woman who spends most of her time in bed even though the doctors can find nothing wrong with her has PLENTY wrong. She is coping out because she can't face life. The woman is emotionally ill and this type of illness can be as incapacitating as two broken legs. It is difficult to explain this to one who has not experienced emotional illness but, take my word for it, these unfortunate folks suffer a living Hell.

Confidential to Mad At Him: Sorry, but you are wrong. The driver of a car should not be expected to light a lady's cigarette. Safety is more important than chivalry. That split second of "politeness" could land you both in the hospital — or worse.

The Lutheran Church Women of St. John's, Pleasant Township, will hold a meeting of special interest on Monday, September 18, at 8 p. m. Presenting a program of music will be Mrs. Wilcox E. Bergstrand of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Jamestown, N. Y., and her youth group of "Holy Trinity Singers."

Directed by Mrs. Bergstrand, the young people will present the Lutheran liturgy in contemporary folk form. These young singers, (twenty-five voices originating from the church's Luther League Bible Class) are becoming widely known for their unique presentation of worship. The congregation will be asked to take part in this service, since it is essentially a service of worship for all present.

A tea and fellowship hour will follow the service, with arrangements by Mrs. Melvin Poling, chairman, with Mrs. Raymond Billstone and Mrs. Martin Carlson. Hostesses are Mrs. Howard Campbell, Mrs. Carlson, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. Paul Nordin, Mrs. Poling, Mrs. Lyle Shavley, and Mrs. Ross Wood.

Special guests for the evening will be LCW members from the First and St. Paul's Lutheran churches, and young people from St. John's. Members of the LCW's from the two guest churches are asked to make reservations with their respective group presidents before this Friday, September 15. The president of St. John's LCW urges all members of that auxiliary to be present at 7 p.m. Monday evening for a special business meeting, including election of officers.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Folks:

We have told you before that many readers say they clean gold jewelry with a solution of ammonia and water.

A gold miner, and others, said that they have good results using dry baking soda and a soft rag.

A rare coin dealer, and many others, use plain old toothpaste and a soft brush.

I tested all three methods and found that one method may work better than the other, depending on the quality of the gold. It seems that the purity of the gold (how much pure gold and other alloys are in the article) determines what cleans it best.

So, if one idea doesn't work to your satisfaction, try another.

Just remember, if the article has a thin coat of gold on it, and you rub it a lot, you may rub off the gold and get down to the basic metal.

Of course, if the jewelry is solid gold, or almost pure gold all the way through, they say you can't hurt it by rubbing.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: I use a one-pound coffee can for a bathroom bowl brush holder.

First I cover the can with foil, pretty wallpaper or paint, and put a folded paper towel inside on the bottom. Then I cut slits crosswise (X) in the middle of the plastic lid, and slip it over the handle down to the brush. When the brush is put in the can the lid can be snapped on and it's almost airtight.

It makes a clean and odorless holder that is replaceable any time.

T. G.

DEAR HELOISE: This is for my fellow junk collectors...

Are your cellars, attics and garages full? Are you tired of hunting through boxes?

Buy some large, heavy plastic drawing bags, and start sorting. Put up a row of cup hooks wherever you have space for these bags to hang. Sort and divide your things such as artificial flowers, clothing remnants, games, odds and ends, and put them in the bags. Then MANG them up.

Everything can be seen at a glance and the needed items remove easily.

Not only does it move, but makes a neater basement, attic or garage.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Hirtzel of Lancaster, N. Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn, to Michael R. Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Long of Warren.

The bride-elect is a 1963 graduate of St. Mary's Diocesan High School in Lancaster, and is presently employed at Struthers Wells. Her fiancé, a 1961 graduate of Warren Area High School, is presently with S. J. Groves on the Youngsville bypass construction.

The wedding will take place in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Lancaster, N. Y., on October 21. The couple plan to reside in Warren.

Grange Notes

Warren Grange held its regular meeting during which the Warren County 7th degree team initiated a class of candidates into the 1st and 2nd degrees.

The membership was reminded of the booth to be sponsored at the Sidewalk Festival on Friday and Saturday of this week. Baked goods will be sold on Friday and Saturday, each member to bring donations on the day designated; items on Saturday are to be brought in before noon. For pickup call Mrs. Fred Simones at 723-3925, or Lucille Johnson at 757-9966.

The next meeting of the Warren Grange Home Economics Group takes place on Tuesday, September 19, when a tureen dinner will be served at noon.

DEAR HELOISE:

To give my window shades a lift, I bought colored fringe by the yard and sewed it across the bottom of the shades where the sticks are inserted.

Remove stick, sew fringe on then just reinset stick. I also sewed matching fringe around the top and bottom border of my lamp shades. It certainly gave the room a much needed change.

Melba Ruffatto

DEAR HELOISE:

That ever faithful nylon net stretched over the middle prongs of the top tray in my dish washer keeps small articles from falling through.

I leave mine on all the time and the heating element does not affect it at all.

Peg Pratt

DEAR HELOISE:

When knitting, try using regular bobby pins as markers. These are always available and easy to take off your knitted piece without removing the needles or tearing the yarn.

Hook the bobby pin through the stitch and let it dangle. It won't come off until you take it off.

M. G.

DEAR HELOISE:

Being an indulgent grandmother, I let my granddaughters use my hand lotion each time they wash their hands. I've had to be ingenious to keep ahead of them, so I put hand lotion in empty roll-on deodorant bottles.

The dolls can roll it on with no spills, and the lotion lasts longer.

V. H. S.

DEAR HELOISE:

Since months have no season, I have found an easy way to "de-moth" closets.

I partly fill a sock with moth crystals and attach it with a rubber band over the end of the hose of my electric hair dryer (without the bonnet). Then I put the dryer on the closet shelf and let it run for 10 minutes or so, on cold. NO HEAT whatsoever.

This is much easier than using the vacuum cleaner attachment and can be moved effortlessly from closet to closet.

1000 Attend Woman's Club Flower Show

Nearly 1000 persons enjoyed the 10th Annual Flower Show held last Thursday and Friday at the Warren Woman's Club. Theme of the show was "Around the World in Thirty Hours" and special recognition must be given to Warren artist, Quinn Smith who created a three dimensional effect on the stage and planned the entire unusual decor. Barney Singer also gave valuable assistance with lighting effects.

Warren florists—Skey's, Girton's and Virg-Ann each created a beautiful floral display for the show and these were awarded Friday night to Mrs. Geneva Glass, Phyllis Valone and Mr. Cy Davis of Franklin.

Special awards were presented to Mrs. A. David Potter, who won the Sweepstakes for the Design Division. This means Mrs. Potter received the most blue ribbons in that division. Mrs. M. G. Keller received the Sweepstakes in the Horticultural Division, again indicating she won the most blue ribbons in that particular division. In addition, Mrs. Keller exhibited a floribunda rose named "Permanent Wave" — which won the "Award of Merit". The judges conclusion was that the rose was the finest exhibit in the Horticultural Division.

In the Table Settings—Mrs. David Crosssett was presented the "Tri-Color Award" for her beautiful formal dinner table—entitled "Dinner for Princess Aouda".

Warren Public Library had arranged a most attractive display of books on gardening and arranging. The panel of judges recognized this as an outstanding educational exhibit and presented the "Silver Award" to Warren Public Library.

Camp Comptroller was given the Tri-Color Achievement Award for their display.

In the Junior Division—Miss Carol Valone won the Junior Achievement Award for her entry in the class "Flying Flowers".

Judges for this year's show were Mrs. William H. Rhubottom of Greenhurst, N. Y.—Mrs. Lee Hilton of Sinclairville, New York—Mrs. James Murphy of Erie, Pa.—Mrs. Clement R. Austin Sr., of Erie, Pa.—Mrs. Arthur Ihlen of Fairview, Pa. and Mrs. Edward Walsh of Erie, Pa.

A New You by Emily Wilkens

The Scents Of It All

There is an old Spanish saying which goes: "All women are created equal until they begin to use fragrance". Perhaps our Spanish friends have a point. Few things do more to add to your femininity, self-assurance and the total impression you present, than the fragrance you wear.

The appeal of a pleasing scent is as old as history itself. Marie Antoinette spent a fortune a year on perfume alone. Napoleon slobbered on two bottles a day (his favorite was Spanish Jasmín). Louis XIV decreed that his court sport a different scent every day of the week.

PERFUME TYPES

Perfumes come in various types, each of which imparts a different aura. There are single florals (such as carnation, gardenia, rose, lily of the valley); floral blends or bouquets (usually combined with musk, vetiver and amber); fruity blends (clean and citrusy); spicy blends (combinations of spices you'd find at the chemist's or sometimes in your own kitchen); forest scents (sandalwood, rosewood, cedar); the orientals (heavy, exotic fragrances made of animal extracts like civet and musk, often combined with sandalwood).

The modern blends, which are neither floral nor oriental, owe their delightful, almost indefinable odor to aldehydes. Included in this group are the costly "great" perfumes. Most famous couturiers market their own signature brands.

HOW TO CHOOSE

Over fifty percent of all perfumes are purchased as gifts. It's flattering to be presented with an enormous bottle of toilet water or perfume, but selecting the scent that's right for you should be a well thought out and tried out, personalized decision. Whatever type you choose should be appropriate for your personality and way of life. A heavy oriental perfume, for example, would be utterly out of place in an office.

TRY OUT

Body chemistries vary. It's absolutely impossible to tell how a particular perfume will smell on YOU by sniffing an opened bottle or following your friends' inclinations. Dab a drop on the inside of each wrist. (Don't attempt to try out more than one fragrance at a time.) Leave it on for a while before buying.

You'll never go wrong if you choose your scent "on the light side". A whisper is generally more effective than a shout. Buy perfume in small bottles, using it while it's fresh. Keep it in a dark spot which is neither too hot nor too cold.

COLOGNE AND TOILET WATER

Besides perfume, strongest and most concentrated, there is toilet water (midway in strength between perfume and cologne) and cologne (alcohol-diluted and lightest of the three).

The bidding:

Opening lead Nine of ♣

West was not optimistic regarding the prospects of establishing one of his suits in defending against South's three no trump contract. In an attempt to do something for his partner he opened the nine of hearts—which proved to be an effective choice. The four was played from dummy and East signaled encouragingly by following with the seven. Declarer won the trick with the king.

Inasmuch as there was no quick entry to dummy, South cashed the ace of clubs in the vague hope that the king might drop. When only small cards appeared, he continued with another club and East was in with the king. The latter returned a small heart away from the ace to permit his partner to retain a card in the suit with which to reach East later in the play.

North was in with the jack of hearts and declarer proceeded to cash three club tricks, on which East discarded one diamond and two spades while West parted with two diamonds and one spade. South had only eight top tricks at this point and in an attempt to develop the ninth, he led the jack of diamonds for a finesse. West won the trick with the king and a heart return was taken by East's ace. The latter proceeded to cash his long hearts to send the declarer down to defeat.

South missed an opportunity to clutch his contract at the opening gun. Inasmuch as he wishes to be in dummy for the club finesse, he should put up the jack of hearts when that suit is led. If the jack wins, he can lead the queen of clubs next.

If East covers the jack of hearts with the ace and returns the suit, declarer is in his hand as before—the difference, however, is that he is well on his way to severing his opponents' line of communications. South leads the ace and another club, putting East in with the king. The latter can clear the heart suit by leading a third round, but when the diamond finesse loses to West subsequently, the latter is unable to put East in since he has no more hearts and the defense is limited to three tricks on the deal—one diamond, one heart, and one club.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1967.

ARIES (March 21 to April 20) — Some matters will run smoothly, others may need greater effort and better direction. Discriminate between duties and desires. The first are "musts," the second should come later.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21) — You may have to spur yourself on now, especially where apathy toward tedious tasks is concerned. But it will be worthwhile. Victory over self makes the going easier, brings quicker progress.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) — Mixed influences. Choose thoughtfully what you will do, what you leave out of your program — the latter being a vital consideration. Some changes in procedure could lighten the monotony of routine.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) — Study trends and motivations to understand people and systems better. Also note what you have, or have not, been contributing personally. A day for checking your balance sheet.

LEO (July 24 to August 23) — Usually the Leoite is a busy and active person, but there are tendencies toward apathy and indifference for many now. Be alert, and don't yield to such negative feelings.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23) — Give encouragement wherever you can; it will react beneficially for you and your interests. In considering new ideas and methods, be guided by precedents.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23) — A deep sense of fulfillment can be yours if you will stay with the small and difficult chores, holding them equally important with the "big things." Emphasize the Libran's innate stability.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22) — As with yesterday, look well into proposed suggestions, or you may find yourself involved where you least desire it. Some definite "no" answers will be required.

SAGITTARIUS — Some restraint called for now. Just because someone's idea is "new" or "unusual," it does not mean that it is best for YOU. Avoid anxiety.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) — In everyday matters, give a little! You will be surprised at the results. Your fine imagination can give a time-worn or thinly devised project the boost it requires.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) — Your intuition and perception should be keen now. Under prevailing planetary influences, you should win advancement, gain new benefits.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) — Be sure that whatever it is in which you invest your time and money has meaning — not just for the present, but for some time to come. Use care in handling details.

YOU BORN TODAY are loyal, friendly, hard-working, roundly intelligent. Through discriminating use of your talents you can forge an enviable niche in this world. Others instinctively like you. You can perform admirably, and consistently in your work, but it is not your nature to want to work alone. You thrive on a heavy schedule, produce under pressure. But watch out for "nerves." One of your strong points is taking something begun by another and expanding on it in great detail to substantial improvement. Birthdate of: John J. Pershing, Commander-in-Chief, World War I; Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., ex-Governor of Puerto Rico; Sherwood Anderson, author, playwright.

How to Keep Well

RED, HOT, AND PAINFUL

A Minnesota farmer has an unusual problem. "For the past three years I have had several episodes of severe burning in my legs and feet. Distress occurs whenever my feet are warm or after sitting too long on my tractor."

When the attacks come on at night I obtain relief by pulling off the covers and exposing my legs to the cool air. A hot tub bath or shower is out of the question because the skin becomes red and burns. Have you heard of anything like this?"

Red, hot, and painful extremities usually mean erythrodermia. In this circulatory condition, the vessels are dilated and the blood flow is increased. Skin temperature over the painful areas is usually higher than over the nonpainful portions.

Letting the legs hang down also can trigger the attacks. This may play a role when our reader sits on the tractor; heat from the engine also may be responsible. Warm water, heavy socks, and shoes and the heat from a fireplace will do the same. Ensuing discomfort may last from a few minutes to hours.

The pain is described as sharp, stinging, throbbing, or stabbing. Cooling the skin such as walking barefoot in snow or cool grass is beneficial. Elevating the extremities does the same. Some obtain relief with one or two aspirin. Most victims are over 45 years of age and otherwise healthy. In some, high blood pressure, diabetes, gout, or rheumatoid arthritis coexists.

Victims of polycythemia occasionally complain of red, hot, and burning extremities. These individuals have too much blood and partial or even complete relief may occur after several pints of blood are removed. Radio-phosphorus also is used in this group to depress the blood-forming organs so that fewer red cells will be manufactured.

TOMORROW: Exercise Following Coronary. Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

LOCAL HAIR LOSS

G.L. writes: What causes a 43-year-old man to lose all the hair on his arms and legs but not on his chest?

REPLY

Changes in the hair pattern are difficult to understand. Hair on the arms and legs is more likely to be affected by the circulation than by the glandular system, which is more concerned with hair of the scalp, face, chest and pubic areas.

RHEUMATIC FEVER

C.A.B. writes: How does rheumatic fever affect the heart?

REPLY

The Aschoff body is the basic lesion of rheumatic fever. These microscopic bits of inflammation are scattered throughout the muscular wall, inner lining, and valves of the heart. The valves bear the brunt because they are thin and delicate; residual scarring (leakage) results.

BOOK REVIEW

Svetlana's Story Has Sparked Controversy

NEW YORK (AP) — Svetlana Alliluyeva shifts the burden of guilt for the atrocities committed by her father to his top police henchman, Lavrenti P. Beria, in a moving account of life in Russia under dictator Joseph Stalin.

"How could such a thing happen? How could my father do it?" she writes in her forthcoming book, "Twenty Letters to a Friend," after recounting how, one by one, her friends and family were purged. The first of a two-part serialization of the book appears in the Sept. 15 issue of Life magazine.

"The only thing I know is that it could not have been his idea," she adds of her father. "But if such a skillful flatterer, such as Beria, whispered in his ear that 'these people are against you, that there were 'dangerous connections' such as trips abroad, my father was capable of believing it."

On his deathbed, she writes, Stalin appeared to curse them all. "The death agony was terrible. He literally choked to death as we watched. He suddenly opened his eyes and cast a glance over everyone in the room. It was a terrible glance, insane or perhaps angry and full of fear."

"He lifted his left hand as though he were pointing to something above and bringing down a curse on us all. The gesture was full of menace, and no one could say to whom or to what it might be directed," she wrote.

While Svetlana writes of her father with a mixture of love, hate, pity and fear, she has only contempt for Beria, who headed the secret police during much of the Stalin era and was executed nine months after the premier's death in 1953.

"He (Beria) was a magnificent modern specimen of the artful courtier, the embodiment of Oriental perfidy, flattery and hypocrisy who had succeeded in confounding even my father, a man whom it was ordinarily difficult to deceive."

"A good deal that this monster did is now a blot on my father's name and in a good many things they were guilty together. But I have not the slightest doubt that Beria used his cunning to trick my father into other things and laughed up his sleeve about it afterward."

Even at Stalin's death bed, when others flinched, recognizing that "something portentous, something almost of majesty, was going on in the room," Beria was behaving "in a way that was very nearly obscene," she wrote.

"During the final minutes, as the end was approaching, Beria suddenly caught sight of me and ordered: 'Take Svetlana away!' But no one moved. The second it was over he darted into the hallway ahead of anybody else. The

Meat Merchants Sell Short Weight

PITTSBURGH (AP) — State Secretary of Internal Affairs John K. Tabor said yesterday his department is wise to merchants who try to sell short measures of food products on weekends.
"We have records of a few merchants who sell short-weight products, especially meat, on Saturdays and Sunday figuring less danger of being caught by inspectors," said Tabor.
But "we will be on the job seven days a week at whatever hour necessary to do the job," he added.

For Carried Lunches

For many mothers the re-opening of school brings them face to face again with a constant challenge to the imagination — what to pack for the youngsters' lunch. The reliable sandwich routine is good as it goes, but for variety's sake, it should be used moderately. Besides, youngsters really appreciate a warm, tasty meal after an active morning.

Canned spaghettiOs in tomato and cheese sauce — four sizes of tiny, tender spaghetti circles in a rich, tomato-good sauce — is a child-pleasing solution to the carried lunch. Children love the flavor and the novel shape of spaghettiOs. Moreover, they're fun to eat. These little rounds of spaghetti can be eaten with a spoon, which means no spills, no mess.

Here, spaghettiOs with sliced frank — the same as spaghetti circles plus tender all-meat frankfurter slices in a delicious tomato sauce — is being spooned into a wide-mouth vacuum bottle. Round out this lunch with these tasty packables; carrot and celery sticks, fresh fruit, and cookies or cupcakes.

You'll want to keep all three spaghettiO products — spaghettiOs in tomato sauce and cheese, spaghettiOs with sliced frank, and spaghettiOs with meatballs — on hand for many menu ideas. Serve them as is for lunch or supper, or use them as starters for quick skillet or casserole dishes, like Crunchy SpaghettiOs.

CRUNCHY SPAGHETTIOS
2 slices bacon
1/4 cup chopped celery
1 can (15 1/4 ounces) spaghettiOs in tomato and cheese sauce
In saucepan, cook bacon until crisp; remove and crumble. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Cook celery in drippings until tender. Add SpaghettiOs and bacon. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

New Macaroni and Cheese

Here's a humdinger of a way to serve macaroni and cheese. Bake it in a rosy "pie crust" of jazzily seasoned canned corned beef. Who'd ever guess that such a good-looking main dish costs just pennies per serving. Why... it's "spiffy" enough to grace a potluck table.

Because tomatoes go so beautifully with both corned beef and macaroni and cheese, we've used canned tomato sauce with cheese to flavor both. You'll find this sparkling blend of smooth tomato sauce, Italian seasonings and mellow Romano cheese excellent in ever-so-many of your other favorite main dish recipes, too.

Corned Beef and Macaroni Pie packs a nutritional wallop. The pie is rich in the meat and milk "growing power" youngsters need and the protein energy power grown-ups require, too.

CORNED BEEF AND MACARONI PIE
1 (12-oz.) can corned beef
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 teaspt. horseradish
1/2 teaspt. prepared mustard
1 egg
1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce with cheese
4 oz. elbow macaroni, cooked (about 2 cups, cooked)
1 cup shredded process American cheese

1/4 cup evaporated milk
1 teaspt. basil
1/2 teaspt. salt
4 thin slices process American cheese, cut diagonally in half.

Combine corned beef, onion, horseradish, mustard, egg and 1/2 can tomato sauce with cheese. Pat evenly and firmly over bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan. Mix macaroni and cheese; pour into meat shell. Combine remaining tomato sauce with cheese, milk, basil and salt; pour over macaroni. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 40 minutes. Garnish with cheese slices. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Double-Take Meatballs

Circus Supper Plate

Sooner or later every mother has the problem. . . Comes the day, when the children's appetites start to lag and, just like the grown-ups in the household, they want something new, something different. There's a saving grace with youngsters, though, because often the demand for "something different" can be satisfied with an unusual presentation of the same foods the rest of the family will be enjoying.

A case in point is this imaginative Circus Supper Plate with a jolly, chubby, colorful clown created out of ordinary supper menu fare. Convenience foods, like frozen fish sticks and vegetables and instant potatoes, make it that much easier to serve the family and provide this clever appetite-making surprise for the junior hard-to-please set.

A fluff of instant mashed potatoes forms the clown's head. A favorite frozen vegetable, like the green beans we've selected, makes the body. Crispy golden fish sticks, which go from freezer to range to table in scant minutes, are just right for the collar and hat of this happily edible fellow. Use sliced olives for the wonderful, wide-awake eyes, fresh carrot curls for the ears and circus hat pom-pom, and a curly pickle for his smile.

This should certainly turn your dubious darlings into four-star eaters again. In fact, they may want quick artist's seconds! You can add to their renewed happy-eating mood by including some circus-type decorations in the dining room—gay paper napkins, balloons tied to chairs or chandeliers, and a real toy clown to preside as a centerpiece. But for that matter, why wait till the youngsters complain about their food? . . . The Circus Supper Plates are great for family birthday celebrations, for a first-day-back-at-school surprise, for the very first visit of a very small house guest, and many other occasions.

The frozen fish sticks which come in so handy for this treat for the youngsters are really ideal for family dining in many ways. In the first place, each member of the clan can have as few or as many as his appetite and age dictate. Then, they are rich in important protein, vitamins, and minerals, and they are remarkably economical to serve. Also easy on the budget and full of health-giving nutrients are frozen fish portions and frozen fillets. It's a wise homemaker who stocks her freezer with a variety of these fish packages, whether for clown-making for the tiny tots or muscle-building for their older brothers.

CIRCUS SUPPER PLATE
Frozen fried fish sticks
Instant mashed potatoes
Frozen green beans
Carrot curls

Stuffed olives
Gherkin pickles

Heat fish sticks as directed on package. Prepare mashed potatoes and cook green beans as directed on packages. To assemble clown: place 1 No. 10 ice cream scoop of potatoes on warm plate. Cut 1 fish stick in half diagonally; press into potato to form pointed hat. Cross 2 fish sticks at base of potatoes for collar. Mound 1 serving of green beans under the crossed fish sticks. Cut stuffed olives in half, push into potatoes for eyes. Select a curved gherkin for mouth. Arrange 3 carrot curls for ears and topknot on hat. Makes one child's serving.

FOR LAGGING APPETITES

Circus supper plate demonstrates how a little imagination can create dishes that will come to the rescue of children's lagging appetites. A jolly, chubby, colorful clown is created out of ordinary supper menu fare.

Ah, the many-splendored meatball! Dressed in dozens of different ways, these well-seasoned, roly-poly chunks of ground beef are enthusiastically received by kids and adults—guests and family.

Here's a meatball recipe that's doubly talented. Surround Double-Take Meatballs with fluffy rice or noodles for a robust main dish. Or heap the tiny meatballs and their tomato-y sauce into a chafing dish. Provide colorful wooden picks, and you have toothsome tidbits to grace a party table.

Double-Take Meatballs owe their delightful flavor to just a few carefully chosen ingredients. Herb seasoned stuffing croutons not only provide savory taste but also give lightness and "stretch" to the ground beef and pork combination. Soy sauce gives the meat a nuance of Oriental savor; water chestnuts add crunch.

Bake the meatballs in rosy tomato sauce. Tomato sauce and ground meats have long been a highly compatible pair—have you ever noticed how the flavor of one just seems to make the other one taste better?

After all, tomato sauce is simply fresh, red-ripe tomatoes (a full pound of tomatoes in every 8-ounce can) professionally simmered to a smooth sauce all ready for you to use. Pour canned tomato sauce into your favorite ground beef dishes for the easiest way ever to give them honest-to-goodness tomato taste.

DOUBLE-TAKE MEATBALLS

2 cups herb seasoned stuffing
croutons
¾ cup milk
1 lb. ground beef
½ lb. ground pork
1 Tablesp. soy sauce
1 (5-oz.) can water chestnuts, drained and finely chopped
2 (8-oz.) cans tomato sauce
Soak croutons in milk 5 minutes or until soft. Add remaining ingredients EXCEPT tomato sauce; combine thoroughly. Shape level tablespoonfuls into small balls; place in shallow baking pan. Pour tomato sauce over meatballs. Bake at 350 degrees F. 40 minutes. Skim any fat off sauce. To serve as main dish, arrange meatballs and sauce on serving platter and serve with cooked rice or noodles. To serve as appetizer, heap meatballs and sauce in chafing dish and provide wooden picks for serving. Makes 8 main-dish or 12 to 18 appetizer servings.

Sunday Dinner

Roslyn's Chicken with Vegetables, Green Salad, Hot French Bread, Chocolate Pudding, Sand Tarts.

ROSLYN'S CHICKEN WITH VEGETABLES

1 frying chicken (about 2½ pounds) cut up
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
10 tablespoons butter
1 pound small white onions, peeled
1 cup medium sherry
1 cup water
½ pound mushrooms
1 package (10 ounces) frozen french-style green beans
1 can (8 ounces) small green peas, drained
Coat chicken pieces with mixture of flour, salt and pepper. In a large skillet heat 6 tablespoons of the butter; add chicken pieces and brown well on all sides. Transfer to large oven-proof casserole; scrape the drippings into the casserole. Add onions, sherry and water. Cover tightly and bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 45 minutes. Meanwhile, cook the sliced mushrooms in remaining 4 tablespoons butter until soft; add to the casserole with the green beans and peas; bake 15 minutes longer. Correct seasoning. Makes 4 servings.

Come In Out of the Cold

When it comes to chowder, we often think first of clams or fish. However, chowders don't have to be the ocean-going kind. There are many versions of this splendid soup. Its name is said to have come from the French word for a soup cauldron, chaudiere.

One of the delights of the brisk days ahead is being able to come in from the cold and warm up with a piping hot and hearty soup. A new recipe that is deliciously satisfying as a midday meal or Sunday supper is Chicken Cheese Chowder. Easily prepared in a matter of minutes, it combines concentrated chicken soup, milk, diced chicken and sauteed onion and celery to make a richly thick creamy soup.

CHICKEN CHEESE CHOWDER
36 Cheez-It Crackers (+)
1 tablespoon melted butter
paprika

2 cans concentrated chicken soup, 10½ ounces each
2 soup cans milk
1 can chicken, 5½ ounces, or about 1 cup diced leftover chicken
¼ cup diced onion
¼ cup diced celery
2 teaspoons butter
¼ teaspoon dried thyme, well rubbed

Brush tops of crackers with 1 tablespoon melted butter. Place on cookie sheet and sprinkle lightly with paprika. Set aside. Blend condensed soup with milk. Add diced chicken and place over moderate to low heat. Do not allow to boil. Saute onion and celery in 2 teaspoons butter over moderate heat until tender but not brown. Stir in thyme. Add to soup. Place crackers under broiler for about 1 minute, or until slightly brown. Pour hot soup into tureen or individual bowls. Top with toasted crackers. YIELD: 6 servings.

FOR BRISK DAYS

Brisk days ahead challenge the lady in the kitchen to prepare a hearty warm welcome when her family comes in from the cold. On the next chilly day, try serving delicious Chicken Cheese Chowder.

Continental Lamb Shanks

Homemakers who are shrewd food-budget operators look for the meat specials in market ads. They know thrifty cuts such as lamb shanks, when carefully cooked, provide a wealth of good eating at reasonable cost. Simmer Continental Lamb Shanks slowly and just savor the mouth-watering meat and herb aromas. There'll be no need to coax the family to dinner once they get a whiff!

Just a few ingredients give seasoning finesse to the lamb shank: basil, onion, Worcestershire sauce, white wine and tomato sauce with cheese.

Tomato sauce with cheese (like its cousins, regular tomato sauce and tomato sauce with mushrooms) is getting to be a familiar pantry shelf staple in many of our readers' homes.

Blended into rich, pure tomato sauce are Italian seasonings and mellow, aged Romano cheese. Use tomato sauce with cheese to give new interest to many of your favorite main dishes—like meat loaf, stew, spaghetti sauce, casseroles and chili.

A SAVORY MEAL

Keep your meat bill in budget bounds by serving savory Continental Lamb Shanks often. The rest of your menu might be glazed carrots, buttered limas, corn bread, tossed salad and lime tarts (make the filling from a pudding mix.)

Easy Supper

- Lamb Chops
- Bacon Spinach Noodles
- Carrot Sticks
- Hot Rolls
- Fruit Cup
- Hot Beverage
- BACON SPINACH NOODLES
- 6 slices bacon
- 1 package (8 ounces) spinach egg noodles
- 3 tablespoons sweet butter
- 3 tablespoons olive oil
- 3/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Skillet-cook or broil the bacon until crisp; drain and crumble; keep warm. Cook spinach noodles according to package directions; turn into a colander to drain. In the rinsed noodle pot, over very low heat, melt the butter and heat the oil; add the noodles, bacon and 1/2 cup of the cheese; toss thoroughly. Remove from heat; quickly mix in the remaining 1/4 cup cheese. Serve at once.

why does the fish in Cap'n John's frozen fish dinners taste fresh-cooked?

Because you cook the fish.
It takes no longer than heating pre-cooked frozen fish...only 20 minutes.
You see, we're sort of fanatics about fresh fish flavor.
So we refuse to pre-cook the fish.
Here's what we do:
We dip the fillet in milk batter.
Bread it. Top it with butter.
We blanch the peas.
Partly cook the potatoes.
So everything's done at once (in only 20 minutes) when you cook it.
The result.
A fish dinner that tastes like the fish is fresh-cooked.
It should. Because it is.
One important tip.
Be sure the oven is really pre-heated to 400° F.
Are our Cap'n John's Frozen Fish Dinners a good reason for shopping A&P?
They're one of many.

Reward For Leaf Raking

It's coming, ladies—we mean that Saturday of the year when golf games, paper drives and all other worthy ventures must take second place to raking leaves. This, as you know, means that mom must be expediter, cheerleader and, above all, chef extraordinaire. Lunch must appear as if by magic and satisfy appetites that would make harvest hands proud.

Hearty Turkey Soup can be made quickly in your electric blender with cooked turkey, roast, mashed potatoes, spinach, cream and milk. You can even make it earlier in the week with leftovers and keep it in the freezer. Half of a two-and-a-half-pound turkey roast, the kind that has its own grains of gravy packet, will make five cups of this delicious soup.

You and the family will be intrigued with the lovely green color and the unusual flavor. They'll never guess that the unusual little nip is from the dash of lemon peel that you add. Did you say soup isn't enough for your family of husky eaters? Don't forget, Hearty Turkey Soup is thickened with mashed potatoes, uses almost a pound of solid turkey meat (both dark and light in natural proportions) and contains a package of frozen spinach and a pint of cream.

Heat a loaf of Boston Brown Bread and, for dessert, serve that old standby, Bar-Le-Duc. To make it, simply beat a package of cream cheese with milk or cream until it is light and spreadable. Put it on your favorite jelly dish and make a hole in the center. Fill with current jelly (if you want to be traditional) or your favorite jelly or jam. Serve it with hot toasted saltines and your family will think leaves-raking day is the greatest ever! You'll agree Hearty Turkey Soup, Boston Brown Bread and Bar-Le-Duc is such a good combination that you'll want to serve it to your friends after the football games this fall. If you don't have a soup tureen, try your insulated ice bucket. By all means serve it in mugs. The soup stays hotter and it's more informal.

HEARTY TURKEY SOUP

1 package (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach
1/2 cup thick mashed potatoes
1 cup and 1 cup diced cooked boneless turkey roast
2 cups half and half cream
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon chicken seasoned stock base
1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning

Seasoned salt, to taste
Shredded lemon peel (optional)

Cook spinach according to package directions. Drain. Blend together spinach, potatoes, 1 cup turkey, cream, milk, stock base and poultry seasoning until almost smooth. Pour into saucepan along with remaining 1 cup turkey. Add seasoned salt and lemon peel, if desired. Heat thoroughly. Yield: About 5 cups.

This is a tested recipe from the Checkerboard Kitchens. MENU

A Roast With a Difference

Has a summertime of barbecue meals and picnics left you with a yen to do some "real" cooking? A roast perhaps—and with a "difference!"

A cottage roll or Boston butt is an especially good buy and this full-flavored pork roast lends itself to interesting cooking treatments. Easy to carve, too, the roll cuts neatly into trim slices (no bones at all to worry about!).

Spicy-Glazed Pork Roll is prepared much like a picnic ham. Parboil the meat not only to cook it thoroughly but also to remove any excess salt. Then stud it with whole cloves—these always look so festive as well as perfume the meat with marvelously spicy flavor, don't you think?

Now spread on an unusual glaze of tomato sauce, crunchy peanut butter and onion powder. This flavor combination is similar to that used in some Far Eastern dishes yet is subtle and mild enough to appeal to children as well as grown-ups. Bake the roast till it's nicely glazed and brown.

Incidentally, try basting other pork roasts with tomato sauce, too. The pure tomato goodness of the sauce has the flavor-bright tang and tartness that enhances the rich taste of pork so well.

SPICY-GLAZED PORK ROLL
1 (2½-lb.) cottage roll or Boston butt
Cold water
Whole cloves
1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce
1/3 cup crunchy peanut butter
1/2 teas. onion powder

Cover meat with cold water. Bring to boil, lower heat and simmer 1 hour. Drain meat and place in baking dish; stud with cloves. Combine remaining ingredients; spread over meat. Bake at 325 degrees F. for 30 minutes, basting occasionally with sauce. Makes 4 to 5 servings.
